Código de colores: definición fórmula o idea clave ojo / error típico ejemplo

1. Present simple

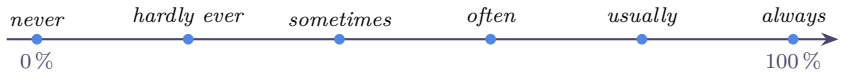

Definición: cuándo se usa
Para hábitos y rutinas (I get up at 7), hechos y verdades generales (Water boils at 100 °C) y horarios (The bus leaves at 8:15).

Afirmativa	Negativa	Pregunta
I / you / we / they play	I don't play	Do you play?
he / she / it plays	he doesn't play	Does he play?

Clave: la -s de la 3.ª persona play → plays watch, go, do, fix, miss → watches, goes, does… (tras -ch, -sh, -s, -x, -o) study → studies (consonante + y) pero play → plays (vocal + y) have → has

Ojo
Con doesn't y does el verbo va sin -s: She doesn't like (no likes); Does he play? (no plays).

Adverbios de frecuencia

Van antes del verbo principal (I always walk to school) pero después de be (She is never late).

2. Present continuous

Definición: cuándo se usa
Para acciones que ocurren ahora mismo (I'm reading) o en esta época, temporales (We're studying for the exams this week). Expresiones: now, right now, at the moment, today, this week, Look!, Listen!

Afirmativa	Negativa	Pregunta
I am playing	I'm not playing	Am I playing?
he / she / it is playing	she isn't playing	Is she playing?
you / we / they are playing	they aren't playing	Are they playing?

Clave: ortografía de -ing make → making (se quita la -e) swim, run, sit, get → swimming, running, sitting, getting (consonante doble: 1 sílaba, consonante + vocal + consonante) lie, die → lying, dying

3. ¿Simple o continuous?

Present simple	Present continuous
rutina: I play tennis on Mondays.	ahora: I'm playing tennis now.
permanente: He lives in Madrid.	temporal: He's living with his aunt this month.
always, usually, every day, on Fridays	now, at the moment, today, Look!

Ojo

Los verbos de estado casi nunca van en continuous: like, love, hate, want, need, know, understand, believe, remember, own. Se dice I know the answer, no I'm knowing.

Ejemplo: en contexto

Tom usually walks to school, but today he is going by bus because it is raining.
